BUDDY RICH, THE WORLD'S GREATEST DRUMMER, SHOWS HOW ...his sticks will fly Monday night in the Glades Central auditorium here

The Stickman cometh

When Buddy Rich walks on the Glades Central High School Auditorium stage at 8 p.m. Monday, a true phenomenon of jazz music will be experienced in Belle Glade.

Rich is hailed by many as the greatest drummer in the world but whether he is or isn't the greatest in the world, he's definitely one of the finest jazz drummers in the world.

Rich is being sponsored by the GCHS Band and Director Willie Pyrom said this is only the first of a series of musical events being planned and he has already booked the Navy Band to play in the auditorium on Feb. 19.

The proceeds from the concert will be used to finance trips by the band.

This is a one in a lifetime deal for a town like Belle Glade. Pyrom said. "Normally, Buddy Rich plays in cities and universities. Many people don't believe a big man like Buddy Rich is coming to a little town like Belle Glade."

Rich came into the world swinging in the days of vaudeville. His parents were a team playing the circuits and Rich was playing drums for "Stars and Stripes Forever" by the time he was 18 months old.

He became a jazz drummer at the age of 14 when he was asked to sit in on a jam session with Joe Marsalis' Band in Brooklyn.

In his early years in jazz, Rich mimed the sticks with the Artie Shaw Band and Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, finally becoming the leader of his own band. But that's history and Rich now leads a 16-member band, a band whose members average out to the age of 24...half his age. None of the arrangements he plays is more than six months old.

The Lions are bearded

Up until last week, the old saying about bearding the lion would have only been a saying in Belle Glade but as of this week, Belle Glade residents can beard their own lion as the local Lions Club began cultivating whiskers for the Bicentennial celebration. The Lions gathered for this picture as a last reminder of what they look like with smooth faces before being enveloped in all their hirsute glory. The members have set a one dollar fine per week for anyone who shaves. The contest will end on May 1, the date of the community celebration.

Negotiations begin with USSC

No-tech site closer

Officials of the Palm Beach County School Board and United States Sugar Corporation met last month to discuss a land exchange which would provide a hundred acre site near the intersection of SR 715 and Hooker Highway for the proposed West Area Vocational Center said H. W. Berryman, West Area school superintendent.

The Hooker Highway site was approved by the School Board on the recommendation of the West Area Vocational-Technical Advisory Board, a committee made up of about 30 Glades residents and county school officials.

"Any time you can get people from Pahokee and Belle Glade to agree on something, it's already an accomplishment," commented H. W. Berryman, West Area school superintendent.

Berryman said the school board hopes to swap agricultural land in the Pahokee-Barclay Park area for a centralized site at the northeast corner of the Hooker Highway - SR 715 intersection.

"We could build the school on thirty acres, but we want this site so we have room to grow," said the West Area superintendent.

Berryman said the site is also advantageous because it is near a state owned sewer line which goes into Belle Glade and because the site is accessible to both SR 715 and the new SR 80 route. Officials at U.S. Sugar Corp. have not decided whether to go through with the land exchange, however.

"I haven't discussed this with our people. It's too early to say what we'll do," said John Boy, president of U.S. Sugar Corp.

The Advisory Committee also considered a proposal to build the Vocational Center on the campus of the proposed Palm Beach County Community College near SR 715 south of Belle Glade.

The junior college site was also acquired through a land trade with U.S. Sugar Corporation.

Funds for the West Tech center are expected to come from at least two sources. West Tech has been designated first on the priority list for construction funds from the state Department of Education. School officials expect about $4.1 million for Palm Beach County according to Berryman. The school board has also applied for a $250,000 grant for land acquisition and architects' fees. If the grant is approved, some of the state construction money could be used for other projects said the West Area superintendent. The cost of the Vocational Education Center is expected to be $5 million according to Vern Crawford, public information officer for the School Board.

A plan to build a consolidated high school to serve the west county as well as a Vocational Education Center has been postponed. The idea of a consolidated high school surfaced in 1973 in connection with a school bond issue. The bond issue failed, and nothing has been done about the plan.

County School Superintendent Paul Carroll said recently the school board cannot afford to build a consolidated high school now but may be able to in the future.

Dr. Cecil Conley, president of Palm Beach Junior College (Glades) and a member of the Advisory Committee, said he favors the Hooker Highway site because there is "more access from Belle Glade and Pahokee." Conley said a number of other factors made him favor the site. He said the nearby sewer lines were advantageous as well as the fact that there is "room to grow."

Dr. Norman James of the U.S. Sugar Cane Field Station (USIA) in Canal Point, also an Advisory Committee member, said the Hooker Highway site is an "excellent location." James said the site can serve residents from all parts of the Glades. He said he favors the consolidation high school which he hopes will share the site with West Tech in the future.

Another Advisory Committee member, Lee Berryhill of Pioneer Growers Inc., Belle Glade, said he agreed the site was the most accessible to all Glades communities. Berryhill said the school board will save money by building near an already existing sewer line.

The new vocational center will emphasize adult vocational training according to Berryman. However the school will also be the center of vocational education for students from junior and senior high schools throughout the Glades.

Although some vocational courses will be taught in the schools, most of the courses will be transferred to West Tech said the West Area Superintendent. The center will offer auto and body mechanics, diesel mechanics, welding, and a business program under the Future Farmers of America will include cattle raising, experimental vegetable and sugar cane growing and experience with farm machinery. Business courses will be typing and short hand will also be offered.

West Tech will be the third vocational education center in the county said Berryman. North Tech in Riviera Beach is the oldest. Another will be opened this week, a Boynton Beach. Officials hope the Glades Center will be completed in 1977.

South Bay readies for SR80 widening

SOUTH BAY — Preparations were under way Monday morning for the widening of the North New River Canal bridge following the removal of city utility lines from the bridge according to a spokesman for Capeletti Bros. Construction Co., Inc.

The project will begin with dewatering and bagfilling under the bridge. The bridge will be widened to four lanes. Two lanes of traffic will be maintained throughout construction according to the spokesman.

The realignment of utilities, which was delayed several months, was completed in its working days beginning Nov. 24th and ending Dec. 24th said Harrelle, Jr., South Bay Public Works supervisor.

The project was done by Underground Utilities Construction Company under a $250,000 contract which includes anchoring the utilities permanently once the bridge is widened said Harrelle.

Harrelle carried out daily inspections of the work and supervised pressure and bacteriological tests when the temporary utilities were hooked up. By inspecting the work himself, Harrelle said he saved the city a $12 per hour fee for an inspector from the Barker, Osha and Anderson engineering firm which designed the widened bridge.

The utility lines were removed from the bridge and moved south to a temporary crossing. The old sewer main was replaced by permanent cast iron pipes from S.E. 2nd to the canal about 25 feet south of the present SR 80. A temporary main goes from there across the canal to the front of South Bay Elementary School across SR 80 to a manhole in front of the South Bay Library.

Once the bridge is finished, the sewer main will be permanently anchored to the south side of the bridge. The water main will be anchored to the north side of the bridge providing a water outlet for development in the north east section of the city according to Harrelle.

Presidential candidates stump Glades

While 1976 is America's Bicentennial Year, it's also the year for another, presidential election and candidates are already stumping the Glades looking for support.

Jack Carter, the oldest son of former Georgia Governor Jimmy Carter, was in Belle Glade Tuesday and Wednesday and there is a strong possibility his major opponent, Alabama Governor George Wallace, will be in Belle Glade on Feb. 3.

Carter rolled into town Tuesday afternoon with his wife, Judy, after spending an earlier part of the day in West Palm Beach. The couple spent the night at the home of E. F. McAllister of 224 N.W. Fourth St. McAllister is a friend of Mrs. Carter's family.

Carter said he foresees a three-way race for the Democrats in Florida's Presidential Primary on Mar. 9, with his father, Wallace and U.S. Sen. Henry (Scoop) Jackson competing actively while a number of other names appear on the ballot.

During a visit to The Herald office, Carter said he believes his father has a good chance to win the Florida primary.

"We believe Florida is one of the most important states in our campaign," Carter said, "and we've budgeted a lot of time and money here." He said his father has set aside some $500,000 to be used in the primary.

Carter said the real race is expected to be between his father and Wallace, with Jackson being a negligible factor. He will win the support of the Iowa Democratic convention in the near future, which, with Florida, would give the Georgia peanut grower support from states in the Midwest, New England and the South.

He said he would hope his father could build support in the Glades since his father is a farmer and the Glades is agriculturally oriented.

Glades grower Lee Berryhill, shaking hands with Carter, wished him luck and commented he and the former Georgia governor has a lot of common since, they're both farmers.

Russell Dennis, president of the Glades Democratic Club and the Glades Young Democrats, said he expects Jimmy Carter to make an appearance in the Glades in person in the near future. The candidate was supposed to be in the area with his son but a news release said he would be unable to make the trip because he has, "apparently come down with a virus."

In the meantime, State Sen. Don Childers said he is working a personal visit to Belle Glade on Feb. 3 by George Wallace.

"There are several people out there," Childers said, "who want Mr. Wallace to go out to the marina for a fish fry. I have to check with the Secret Service, though and that's what I'm doing right now."

Childers said there is a possibility the Secret Service won't let Wallace attend the fish fry because it is in the open. If that should happen, he said the governor will attend an indoor luncheon in the West Palm Beach area.

Question of the Week

How do you like the Belle Glade Marina campsite. What improvements would you like made?

Nadine Scott - Denver, Colo.
The park is very adequate except the water tastes terrible and there aren't enough bathrooms. I'll be back because I like to go fishing. I've already caught a bunch of bass and perch. I'm visiting my mother Inez Andrews of Petersburg Illinois here. We're both on vacation.

Mrs. Faulkner - Ft. Lauderdale
It's a good campsite, but there could be better restrooms and showers. A few more picnic tables would help too. This is our third visit here.

Bert Senior - Lebanon, Indiana
The marina could stand some improvements. There are no lights, showers or hot water on this side of the island. We come down with our friends every year because we like the fishing and the weather. Your pretty well by yourself during the week.

Mrs. Phyllis Burton - Muskoka Lakes, Ontario
We enjoy the camp, the location and the climate. The park is accessible to both boats, and we use it as a base for our travels. I'd like to have a swimming pool or two here. There's no privacy on Missouri Ave. either.

Bob Carroll - Miami
It's somewhat difficult because of the mess in the restrooms and the lack of hot water. They need a dump station for raw sewage from trailers here too. I'll still come back, though.

Frank Lovett - Riviera Beach
Outside of the bathrooms, the park is pretty nice. I like the fishing and the camping. I do have a complaint about them locking the gates at 10 o'clock every night. What if you have to get out. I think adults should be allowed to drive motorcycles in the park too. We definitely will come back.

South Bay loses rights to Belle Glade landfill

SOUTH BAY—The city has been denied use of the Belle Glade landfill beginning in 1976. Although garbage is collected by a private company, the city operates one trash vehicle. Commissioner Don Tanner said the truck must go to the county landfill in Pahokee now. "When you consider the extra man hours, the wear and tear and gas, you know it costs the city more," said Commissioner Tanner.

Two men shot in bar argument

One man received multiple bullet wounds and another was shot in the leg during an argument between three patrons of the E&V Bar, 525 B. Place, at 1 p.m., Dec. 31. Patrolman Michael Maushardt arrested Willie Owens, 41, of 541 B. Place Apt. 24, Belle Glade, in connection with the shooting. Maushardt said he found Owens in his B Place Apt. along with the gun he believed to be the weapon used in the barroom shooting. The two victims were taken by ambulance to Glades General hospital and transferred by sheriff's helicopter to Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach according to a Glades General Hospital spokesman.

One of the victims, Samuel Davis of 116 S.W. 5th St., 34, was wounded in the hand, leg, shoulder and hip according to Maushardt. The other victim, Charles Lee McRath, 44, 516 S.W. Ave. E, was shot once in the leg said the patrolman. In incident reportedly began with an argument between Owens and Davis over a woman said Maushardt. "McRath was an innocent bystander," he added. Owens was charged with two counts of assault with intent to commit first degree murder and transferred to the county jail in West Palm Beach according to Maushardt.

Crane cuts cable, kills computers

At 9:30 Tuesday morning, the computer at Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association, 125 N. Main Street, stopped transmitting information to the computer center at Hollywood, Federal Savings and Loan Association.

South Bay gets cable television

Cable TV has arrived in South Bay said Harry Franklin, manager of Southeast Cablevision, Inc. in Belle Glade. Franklin said subscribers to Cablevision will receive 12 channels from West Palm Beach, Fort Myers and Miami. Channel 34, which carries blacked out Dolphin games will Hollywood. The computer stopped working because a crane excavating near the Hillsboro Canal bridge accidentally severed an underground telephone cable which serves several blocks in northeast Belle Glade. According to Jim McElleney, Southern Bell repair foreman, the crane severed the cable and then pulled a splicing loose. He said about 300 feet of cable was ruined.

Telephone company employees had to splice 200 pairs of wires at both ends of the cable, but the hardest part was digging around the base of the bridge to expose the cable said McElleney.

The repair foreman said damage to the cable affected telephone lines and burglar alarms but not television sets. Since Cable TV uses its own cable, The Everglades Federal computer was affected because information is transmitted to the Hollywood computer over telephone cables.

soon be added said Franklin. Service is available seven days a week, and all service calls for the cable are free said the manager. Cablevision is now in Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay. It will be expanded to Canal Point in January said Franklin.

tractors on the SR80 four-laning project," said the cable appeared on a map supplied by Southern Bell, but he thought the cable was dead.

A spokesman for Everglades Federal said tellers were recording loan payments and savings deposits by hand while the computer was out of order.

"The computer has malfunctioned for short periods before, but this can't go on for too long or our whole ledger system will be affected," he said.

The spokesman said the bank would be able to catch up on Tuesday's transactions if the cables were repaired by early afternoon.

Bob White, Southern Bell manager, said about 150 customers in the northeast section were affected by the cable cutting. White predicted the cable would be back in order by 3 p.m. Tuesday.

FLORIDA IF YOU GOT IT, FLAUNT IT!

Modern day lords, ladies and knights errant have discovered a new way to sport their coat of arms. The insignias are no longer placed on a shield or above the fireplace. Now they are slung low on the bumper, proclaiming the driver's message to the world. Some bumper plates are patriotic like the one of the American flag. Others are reverent like the Christian fish symbol. Most are just for fun, and a few are plain unprintable. Monogrammed plates are popular as are plates which proclaim the glory of the driver's home town, county or state. Some are perfectly appropriate like "Dirty Red" which was seen on a sleek orange-red Buick parked in a local used car lot. It doesn't matter if you are a "Disco Queen" or a "Country" girl; if you've got a license plate, you can flaunt it.

Lamb encased the youth's arm in an inflatable plastic "splint" and remained to comfort the injured youth until an ambulance arrived. Lamb was assisted by the Belle Glade Police Department.

Mason was taken to Glades General Hospital and later transferred to a West Palm Beach hospital for a permanent cast according to a spokesman for Glades General Hospital.

Mason's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Mason, were called to the scene while their son received emergency medical treatment in the parking lot. The elder Mason said he was driving on Southwest Avenue E. not far from the Beef Place when he was stopped and informed of the accident by another resident.

Mason said he did not hold the restaurant responsible for the incident.

South Bay passes junk car ordinance

SOUTH BAY--The city commission passed the first reading of an ordinance which will authorize police to remove abandoned or junk vehicles from private or public property. The ordinance also provides penalties up to $500 and 60 days in jail for violators. The only exceptions are for vehicles kept in an enclosed area, and not visible to the public. The ordinance will be advertised this month and will come up for a final reading at the first commission meeting in February.

Social Chatter

By Maude Vereen

The way of life is a rush these days. We seem to be in a hurry to get nowhere. It is so necessary that we hurry and would the whole world come to an end if you missed that appointment? I am of the opinion that modern man could use an old-fashioned, dependable guide. So this week, instead of what everyone did during the holidays, we will use this opportunity to say to you to begin this year right and pray and ask God to send a guide to be with you, not just for today, but all during the year.

Before I give my expression, I would like for you to pray for Miss Rance Samuels, who is in Glades General Hospital recovering from an automobile accident and all the others that are sick. On next week, we will bring the holiday activities.

Just a few days ago, all of us were rushing so until we kept saying, "This won't happen to me again," but you know what? Most of us will be caught in the same condition come the last part of this year unless we are able to attain some type of guide to help us along the way.

Most of us don't have a good sense of direction either we are in too much of a hurry to take the right road or we let ourselves get sidetracked into something that isn't good for one's self. Without a guide, one may lose more of his precious life than he would if he had the proper guide.

The Bible tells us to roll all our cares on Him (Jesus) for he cares for us. If you feel that you must carry all of your load, then at least let Christ assist you and lighten your load. What He said is, so that every man needs a gentle guide like the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is a "paraclete" guide, or one who comes alongside to uplift. He will assist man in carrying his life's load. Beginning this new year, let us remember that some carry a load of business, some an enormous load of other responsibilities and others carry a load of selfishness and others a load of gossip and lies, but whatever the load, God is able to guide you to a better life. He can guide you to real joy and zest, which you will never have without him.

Remembering that the young people are returning to their various schools, please contact me before you go so we may be able to remember you where you are.

Mrs. Corine Ghast spent her holiday visiting with her son, Solomon Ghent and family of Jacksonville. She said she had a wonderful time with her grandchildren and friends. They also motored to Jacksonville, Ga., her home town where she visited other relatives and friends and it was a special joy to visit her uncle Glenwood Clark and several cousins who were home for the holiday.

We invite you to attend service at the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church in Belle Glade and hear some of the messages brought to us by our pastor, the Rev. Charles Robinson. On last Sunday, the message was entitled, "Love Insurance." Come and witness this Sunday yourself.

Woman's Club met for art program

The Woman's Club of Belle Glade met Dec. 4 at the Civic Center for a Fine Arts Program. Preceding the program, desserts were served by Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mrs. Frank Dooley and Mrs. Luther Jones.

The Fine Arts Chairman, Mrs. Roy Brown, introduced Harry Bloomquist, an instructor at Glades Central High School who presented the program on silk screen processing. One of his pupils, Rudolph Cox, assisted Bloomquist by showing a series of his work. Their presentation was greatly enjoyed by all.

After the program, a short business meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. Isadore Nachman.

Harbesons enjoy family Christmas

Christmas dinner was a big event of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Harbeson as the couple hosted 17 for the holiday meal.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holley and children of Ponce de Leon, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McSwain from Fort Myers and Danita Nicholas, home from college in Hendersonville, Tenn.

The Harbesons had all their children, all but four of their grandchildren and their great grandchildren present for the celebration.

Local artist wins merit award

Belle Glade artist Edrye Burdine was recently awarded the Merit Award by the Lake Worth Art League for the Florida Show currently showing at the League Gallery in Lake Worth.

It seems that our local artist, local art teacher Margaret Earwood said, "is destined for greatness. This is her seventh award she has won in the league."

Mrs. Earwood said Mrs. Burdine, who is her protegee, achieved success this year with her "Sun Silently Run Deep", a painting of cypress from Highland Hammocks State Park.

The Merit Award is always given in a juried show where the choices are carefully selected according to Mrs. Earwood. Mrs. Burdine's "Still Life With Magnolias" won her first award in 1976. Her "Mountain Stream", a subject from her native Kentucky, took a second place in 1969 (This is a permanent part of the Belle Glade Library collection.)

In 1973, her "Twin Cypress" took the Merit Award. By this time, she has become fascinated with the cypress of this area. "Mrs. Earwood said, and went to work on a series of them. She is now one of the best painters of cypress in the state."

Also in 1973, in a later show, she placed second with her "Twin Oaks", a landscape from the Fish-eating Creek area. Returning to the cypress, she painted "Silent Waters", another winner in 1974. This is now the property of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathews of Belle Glade.

"Although Edrye now lives in Cleveland," Mrs. Earwood said, "she is a Glades product in the art field and we are very proud of her. Her husband, Dr. Howard Burdine, is with the Florida Everglades Experiment Station."

Miss Boyd weds Mr. Sims

Miss Rebecca Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd of 150 N.W. Third St. in Belle Glade, became the bride of Howard V. Sims of 501 N.E. Third St. in Belle Glade. Sims is the son of Howard V. Sims Sr. in South Bay.

The wedding took place in Folkston, Ga. on Dec. 26 with Judge J. D. Haddock presiding over the double-ring ceremony and giving the bride in marriage.

After taking a wedding trip to Dalton, the couple are now making their home at 225 N.W. 13th St.

The bride is a graduate of Glades Central High School and the groom is a graduate of Belle Glade High School. The bride is now employed with Florida First National Bank and the groom is with Charles Hilyer Trucking as a foreman.

Hicks - Royal engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Arley B. Hicks of Bean City announced this week the engagement of their daughter, Debra, to Frank Royal of Lake Harbor. Royal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford F. Royal Sr.

The bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Christian Day School and now works as a clerk-typist at the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office in Belle Glade. The groom-elect is a 1973 graduate of Glades Central High and is now employed by Royals, Inc., managing the Ben Franklin Variety Store in South Bay.

The couple has set a May 8 wedding date.

6-2 record

Raiders win Christmas tourney

THE RAIDERS BASKETBALL TEAM SHOWS OFF TROPHIES WON ...during their four games spent winning the Fort Myers tournament

The Glades Central Raiders basketball team worked its way out of the pack over the holidays to hand coach Jay Seider a Christmas gift in the form of the Fort Myers News Press Christmas Tournament.

This was the second year the Raiders have been invited to the tournament and not only did the Raiders beat their five opponents, they earned a record of 6-2 record for the year thus far.

To add to the lustre, Michael Pringle was named Most Valuable Player of the Tournament and he and William Likely were named to the All-Tournament team. "I'm real pleased," Seider said after returning from the final game on Dec. 30. "The team is starting to remember it, except for Moore Haven, the Raiders were smaller than all the other teams."

He said several coaches attending the tournament were impressed with Pringle's play, not only his shooting but his defensive work. One player from Charlotte High, who played the Raiders in the semi-final, said Pringle was the best defensive player he'd played against.

On teamwork, Seider pointed out the reason the team had played on Pahokee in the last game, when they held the tall Blue Devils scoreless for more than two minutes in the closing moments of the game.

The Raiders crushed Moore Haven, 76-34 in the first game on Dec. 22, with Likely playing the game with 18 points and 11 rebounds.

"For an A school," Seider said, "Moore Haven had a pretty good ball club. They made it to state last year and they have a pretty good chance to make it to the regionals this year. Overall, our speed and quickness helped and we dominated the boards."

Three other Raiders scored in double digits in the Moore Haven game with Pringle scoring 13 points and 18 rebounds, Melvin Stevenson with 13 points and T. J. Salter with 10.

Harvey McGriff led the other scorers with eight points, Bennie Woods with 5 points and 8 rebounds, Alonzo Perkins with 4, Anthony Burger with 3, Patrick Collie with 2 and 14 rebounds and Eli Martin and Gary Williams with 1 each.

The Raiders next faced Lake Placid on Dec. 26, coming out ahead, 62-53. "We really surprised them," Seider said, "by jumping into a full court press. We got into a quick lead and dominated the boards. Collie had 22 rebounds, Pringle had 15 and between the two of them, they had more than the other team put together."

This was the second team dominated by Likely but the other Raiders shared in the scoring. Likely picked up 20 points while Stevenson, Collie and Slater made 11 points each. Pringle made 8 points and McGriff rounded out the scoring with 1.

Seider said the Raiders outscored Charlotte High in the first, second and fourth quarters on Dec. 29 to pull out a 70-59 win. Pringle had an outstanding game, starting off to make his first seven field goals for the first seven attempts...all from the corner of the court, and went on to rack up 28 points and 18 rebounds.

Likely led the other scorers with 15 points and 8 rebounds. Slater made 14 points, Stevenson picked up 6, Collie made 2 and 12 rebounds and McGriff finished off the scoring with 2 points.

The Raiders' closest game was against a tall Pahokee team, which had earlier knocked off the top-seeded North Fort Myers team. This game was played on Dec. 30 and ended with a 57-53 score in favor of Glades Central.

The Pahokee game was another big one for Pringle as he picked up points and 18 rebounds while Likely followed with 15 points and 7 balls picked off the backboards.

Raiders dump Blue Devils, 70-62

The Glades Central High School basketball team improved their 75-76 record to 6-2 Tuesday night when they defeated the Pahokee Blue Devils 70-62 in the Raider gym.

"The third quarter is what really pulled it out for us," Seider said. "Pringle was leading by four points at the half but we outscored them, 24-9 in the third period and held our own in the fourth."

The Raiders shot a torrid 58 per cent into the hoop in that third period while the Blue Devils only hit 31 per cent.

Seider said the Raiders were outscored early when the Pahokee team went into a four-man post defense under the basket and put a man on Michael Pringle to slow down the Raiders' leading scorer.

"(William) Likely was able to take up the slack early in the game though," Seider said, "and we were able to adjust after the half. When Pahokee went cold in the third quarter, that made quite a bit of difference."

Three Raiders scored in double digit figures, with Likely racking up 28 points and nine rebounds, Pringle scoring 18 points and 20 rebounds and Harvey McGriff picking up 10 points and four rebounds.

Seider singled out Patrick Collie for his defensive game and said he picked up five points and 11 rebounds. T. J. Salter picked up six points and four assists, Harvey McGriff made three points and three rebounds and Seider said Anthony Burger made four or five assists.

The Raiders will next face Atlantic High School at 8 p.m. in the Raider gym on Friday night and John L. Leonard at home at 8 p.m. Saturday.

"The Atlantic game will be a big one for us," Seider said, "and the boys are looking for revenge against Leonard."

WILLIAM LIKELY, MICHAEL PRINGLE ...named to honor team, Pringle was MVP

THIS WAS SOME OF THE ACTION LAST WEEK AS GATORS LOST ...to Naples Lely in match with uneven height advantage a major factor

Rebounders stymie Gators

Unable to defend against the rebounding of taller Naples-Lely, the Glades Day Gators were thrown for a 70-47 loss in the first game of their 1976 basketball season last Friday night.

The Gators fell behind 19-10 in the first period and trailed 35-22 at the end of the first half. Even though the Gators built momentum in the second half, they were stymied by the rebounding of Lely's tall man, Don Henry.

Size became an important factor as Henry pulled ball after ball off the backboard. The Gator's only defense was to keep the ball out of the key. Lely led the Gators 53-22 in rebounds, and scored most of their points on inside shots.

Both teams showed outstanding ability, especially in the second half. Glades Day's Jorge Echave was the leading scorer with 25 points. Henry was second with 22 points. The Gator's Quique Echave and Lely's Willard Reep tied for third place with 10 points each.

"I told you we had a short team," said coach Bill Schmidt after Friday's loss. Schmidt predicted the Gators will improve in future games, however.

"Naples has already played nine games and this was our first," Schmidt pointed out.

Since there is no way to "work on" height, the Gators will have to improve their defensive playing said Schmidt.

I tell you, I must be a jinx or something to these professional football teams lately. Disregarding the fact that I've been a Miami Dolphin fan for about the past six years, including the three times they went to the Super Bowl and came out with back-to-back victories the last two tries, this year things went sort of kaput for them and they were knocked out of the playoffs. Okay, I figure, since Miami's out of the picture, I'd like to see the Baltimore Colts clobber Pittsburgh and Cincinnati nudge Oakland out of the playoffs. Not so. I watched dully as Pittsburgh dominated the tube and then the Bengals beat the Raiders. Cincinnati made a great comeback in the fourth quarter though, and given a little bit more time, such as five quarters, they would have gotten even with Oakland, that is they would have beat them. Gotta hand it to Oakland, they played a heckuva game in the first three quarters, too bad they need more steam. But getting back to the original topic, now that Cincinnati and Baltimore didn't have that much confidence in the Colts anyway, even if they did beat Miami faded away into oblivion (wait till next year, I can hear their victory cry). Oakland found themselves pitted against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Being a Steeler non-fan (that is too strong of a word), I decided to go with the Raiders even though they have blown their chance in the last eight years. So what's to stop them from trying nine? Which is exactly what they did. It's really too bad, since Kenny Stabler is a southpaw and I'm sort of partial to them. We lefties gotta stick together. After all, we're the biggest silent majority there is, but if we ever decide to start a revolution, watch out! So now that I'm a loser on four accounts, I'm gonna try for five and pick Dallas over Pittsburgh, not because I think they'll beat them, just because I don't care for the Steelers 'don't ask me why, it's just a hangup) and also they would make three coaches who have coached their team to back-to-back victories and by that time it will be common enough so no one will make a big deal out of it. I can see Football Fan now, a can of beer (or Coke in my case) in one hand and a bowlful of popcorn in his lap, muttering "Hm, another coach with two consecutive wins marked up, and then turn the channel to the 'Six Million Dollar Man' or 'Cher' or even 'Disney World' for that matter. Actually, in all probable cases, the Steelers will probably come out as the victors but I'm still going with the Cowboys. Getting to another subject, well sort of, the Glades Day School Gators placed six members of their football on the Florida Sports Writers Association's Section 3-A high school all-star football team and are eligible for the Class A all-state team which will be proclaimed later this month. Mitch Crissman, Ken Burkner, John Youngblood, Mispennel, Bill Thompson and Danny Kirchman were all chosen for the first team and another Gator, Juan Ruez, was named to the second team. Congratulations, guys, you deserve it. A little bit of more news I picked up was that the Glades Central basketball team dominated the invitational tournament over on the west coast during the holidays and ended up as the champions when they outclassed the Pahokee Blue Devils. Some kind of teams we have out here in the Glades, huh? I guess I'll go now and rest my weary body on a nice, warm bed, seeing as how the weather has taken a sudden drop in temperature outside. Enough to chill your bones.

911 committee studies ambulance dispatching

Did you know if you dial operator for an ambulance, your call will be referred to Civil Defense in West Palm Beach before being transferred to a Glades ambulance service? The shortcomings of this system were demonstrated last month when Civil Defense received an ambulance request for an address on 2nd Street in Belle Glade. The dispatcher did not determine which section the address was in, however and police cars had to be dispatched to four possible locations to find the correct address.

To get an ambulance for a Belle Glade emergency, the call must go through three steps - the operator in West Palm Beach to Civil Defense and then to Bell's Communication in Belle Glade which takes calls for the Terry Moss Ambulance Service.

Civil defense operators in West Palm Beach don't know the Glades area, and they don't know whether they have the full address or not, said Jess Womack of the Belle Glade Fire Department Rescue Squad.

A time delay is measured in seconds in emergencies. With a heart attack you have a maximum of three minutes to restore circulation before brain damage occurs, said the medical technician (EMT).

Burch opens Peoples Federal

Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce President Ray Burch cut the ribbon Monday morning to officially open the Belle Glade branch office of Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association at Glades Plaza. Dr. A. L. Rowe, member of the board of directors watches. Also present for the ceremony were Executive Vice President Anderson, Branch Coordinator Robert A. (Skip) Humphrey and several employees. The ribbon was hardly cut before William Freeman (at right) became the first customer of the new Glades office. Peoples is holding a competition among Glades area non-profit clubs and organizations. At the end of the competition on Jan. 23, Peoples will award cash contributions totaling $1,000 to the winning organization. To register, clubs may contact Peoples Branch Coordinator R. A. Humphrey at the Glades Plaza office or call 986-4106.

They need an ambulance rather than asking the operator for an ambulance. A spokesman for Bell's Communication said some local residents call Bell's directly.

One problem during emergencies is that people don't take the time to look up a number. They just pick up the phone and ask for the operator according to Womack.

Many local officials believe the communications problems will be solved by the 911 emergency communication system which will be in operation throughout Florida by 1978.

Under the 911 program, all emergency calls - ambulance, fire and police - will go through a single phone number (911). West Palm Beach Police Chief in charge of Technical Services, William Bennett, said the county's 911 Committee is considering four alternative plans, but that all include a separate dispatch center in the Glades.

Bennett, who is chairman of the county's 911 committee, said a recommendation will be presented to the Palm Beach County Commission this month. He said the program will be in operation in a year to 18 months.

Assistant Chief Bill Mathis of the Belle Glade Police Department said the address problem is not serious or widespread enough to warrant changing the present system before the 911 program goes into effect.

Pahokee Chief Carmen Salvatore, who is a member of the 911 Committee, said he is not While admitting that mix-ups may occur, county Civil Defense director Col. Robert Owens said his dispatchers make every effort to get good directions.

White said cities on the Coast such as Lantana, and Boca Raton are in the same situation.

Elks set Hoop Shoot

The Belle Glade Elks Lodge #1716 will sponsor at 9 a.m. Saturday an annual "Hoop Shoot" at the Glades Central High School gymnasium.

The hoop shoot is a contest among boys and girls from 9 to 14 years old with the objective of making the most baskets from the foul line on the indoor court.

The boys and girls will be shooting against each other in divisions set apart on the basis of age, so each 9-year-old will be shooting against other 9-year-olds and so on.

Elk Jim Humphrey said the hoop shoot is sponsored every year by the Elks on a national basis and draws more competitors than the Punt, Pass and Kick football competition sponsored by the Ford Corporation. He said prospective shooters can pick up their registration forms from physical education teachers at all of the schools.

There are no charges. A champion chosen from each age bracket will go to the District Hoop Shoot in Lake Worth on Jan. 17 according to Humphrey.

Glades growers to hear President Ford

Three Belle Glade and two South Bay growers will be among the members of the American Farm Bureau at the national convention to hear President Gerald Ford in St. Louis on Jan. 5.

The five members will be attending the convention as members, not as delegates or alternate delegates. The local growers attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Shiver of South Bay and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pate, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Weeks and William Cowart, all of Belle Glade.

Council meets

Community Services Council will meet on Wednesday, January 14th, Glades Office Building, 12:30 p.m.

Dr. Robert Peterson, D.O., assigned by the National Health Service Corps to the Palm Beach County Health Department, will speak of the programs and services offered in the Glades Community.

Mrs. Yvonne Driver, R.N., Nursing Supervisor of the Belle Glade Health Center, or Palm Beach County Health Department in the Glades, will tell of the clinics scheduled for the area.

SR80 takes first life for '76

Palm Beach County's first traffic fatality of 1976 occurred about 2:45 a.m. Saturday when a Loxahatchee man was struck by a truck after he abandoned his car on SR 80 and stood on the shoulder of the road.

The dead man was identified as Fenner Thomas Rascoe, 45, by Florida Highway Patrolman D. F. Hudson.

Rascoe reportedly left his car in the east bound lane with headlights blazing about 14 miles from the Belle Glade city limits. Just minutes prior to the accident Palm Beach County Deputy Michael Mills was stopped by three women in the east bound vehicle who told him about a vehicle which has forced three cars off the state highway.

Rascoe was standing on the south shoulder at the highway when he was struck by a pickup truck driven by Adams Flowers, 61, of 1220 W. First St., WPB. Flowers told HPH Homicide Detective William Burroughs he was blinded by the headlights of Rascoe's car and swerved to avoid an accident.

Trooper Hudson said the truck skidded about 119 feet before striking Rascoe and then another 90 feet before it flipped over on top.

Flowers and a passenger, Oliver L. Gugen also of West Palm Beach, were treated at Glades General Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Rascoe was thrown 84 feet onto the highway said Hudson.

Juniors present check

The Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club recently awarded the Louise Rhodes Memorial Tuition Scholarship to Miss Linda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brown of Belle Glade.

Miss Brown has just completed her first semester at the University of Alabama with a "B" average. She has been active in the Reserve Officers Training Corps "Rangers," as well as the University's "Spirit Club." Her courses included Military Science, English, Calculus, American Government, and Chemistry.

She was a member of the Honor Society at Glades Central High School and Valedictorian of her graduating class of 1975.

At the University, Miss Brown is working toward a degree in the medical field.

Low bridge!!!

Mark Twain would probably have been right at home on the E.N. Belcher passed under the drawbridge at the Rim Canal and SR717 at the Belle Glade Marina. Actually, the Belcher didn't pass under the bridge since it opens on a swingspan. At any rate, that crewman leaning on the rail might have been looking along a stretch of Twain's Mississippi.

Mrs. Dees services held

Funeral services for Mrs. Johnnie Muri Dees, a resident of the Glades for the past 34 years, on Jan. 3 in Mission Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Alvin Eugene Nichols officiating. Mrs. Dees was a native of Louisiana. She died on New Years Day after a short illness at the North Broward Hospital in Boca Raton.

Survivors include two sons, Jimmy Dees and Henry Dees of Belle Glade; three daughters, Barbara Morgan of Belle Glade and Susie Bernard and Linda Robin, both of Oak Grove, La.; two brothers, Henry and S. C. Lott, both of Belle Glade and two sisters, Jewel Woods of Boca Raton and Jeanette Davis of Jacksonville.

Fullbearers were Foye Sims, Warren Best, Larue Tripp, Jerry Smith, H. L. Barber and Cecil Bair. Burial took place at Port Mayaca Cemetery in Martin County. Mission Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Annual layette presented

The layette presented annually by the St. Philip Benizi Catholic Church Altar Society to the mother giving birth to the baby born nearest to Christmas at Glades Central came in doubly handy this year. Mrs. Heleh Lovely, already mother of six other children, was surprised when she gave birth to twin boys at 11:43 and 11:54 a.m. on Christmas Eve. The babies weighed 4½ and 3½ pounds respectively and both mother and babies were reported doing fine.

Besides the layette, the society members extended the Lovely family best wishes.

Lamaze natal course offered

The Lamaze Prepared Childbirth Course will again be offered to prospective mothers living in the Glades. The course will be taught in Clewiston by Mrs. Jean Field, R.N., and Mrs. Toni Couss, R.N.T. It will run for six weeks, beginning Jan. 22 and will include films and information on breathing and relaxation techniques for prepared childbirth.

Sometimes it is a hard thing to do. So one prayed in Living Psalms 141:3, "Help me, Lord, to keep my mouth shut and my lips sealed."

As the stranger walked away there came to his mind the Bible verse, "The tongue is a flame of fire. It is full of wickedness and poisons every part of the body. And the tongue is set on fire by hell itself, and can turn our whole lives into a blazing flame of destruction and disaster."

You Can Believe in The New Year...

- Because you believe in the sunrise ... and the Power that put the sun where it is.
  - Because you believe in America and the inspiration of the men who wrote its ideals into laws.
  - Because you believe in people, just plain folks who place justice before prejudice, and neighbors before self.
  - Because you believe in law and order, safety and security for your family, equal opportunity for all.
  - Because you believe in your community, the beauty that surrounds you, the progress that you are a part of.
  - Because you believe in yourself, the good you represent in thought and action, the example you set for others.
- Yes, you can believe in the New Year, if you're willing to believe in Tomorrow.
- Your belief alone can make the coming year a year to believe in. You'll find the way at your place of worship this week.

Dateline History

Publication may change destiny of country

By JEROME TURK & WM. ELLIS
PHI LADELPHI A, Jan. 10, 1776 — An Event exploded here this day which many believe may portend more than the Battle at the North Bridge in Concord.

Someone in Philadelphia has dared to write what millions of people down through the centuries have scarcely dared to think. It could affect the destiny of this Continent & the life or death of thousands. This burst just at a time when J. Turk is away in the north, leaving me with the whole of it.

Arrived here & read today in Public at the Indian Queen Tavern & the London Coffee House is a copy of George III's belligerent address to Parliament, threatening all American rebels with brutal reprisal.

That is not the Event I speak of, but it has doubled the force of it. The stupefying Event is publication here today of an anonymous 48-page pamphlet putting into print the first time the most radical thought, even for these radical times. It attacks the right of hereditary kings to rule. It demands independence from King & Mother Country for the American colonies. It could change the whole war from rebellion to revolution.

The pamphlet actually uses the words "free & independent" & "separate from England" — in print.

I don't say the idea of independence is not hushed about from place to place, or even uttered aloud when two or three privately inhale strong waters. Sam Adams has said the unthinkable word privately; his cousin John has no doubt thought it. But in Public the main men of Congress avoid putting it to voice.

When the subject of independence once was only implied in the presence of General Washington, he stared a roomful of us down to the blood. A toast to His Majesty is always given at the General's mess. No one — not one colonist — has ever made such a direct, angry, impassioned assault on the authority of the King or the allegiance owed to him. But this pamphlet prints it.

It is titled starkly, Common Sense.

Work is interrupted here on every except on the premises of printer-auctioneer R. Bell in Third Street, who is startled by the immediate taking up of all his copies at two shillings. Bell must be either very greedy or very brave. Urging full independence from the Crown could easily see his stoned in this Towne, where many revere the King's name & hope for reconciliation instead of revolution.

The only exception to the work interruption here is the tavern help, who are pressed hard as each new thirsty reader bursts in as if he were the first to bring news of the remarkable pamphlet, only to find he's the last.

The newcomer quickly joins the guessing about authorship. Leading suspects are John Adams, Ben Franklin, Dr. Benjamin Rush and Thos. Jefferson. The first two would have the driving logic, but not the piercing phrase that makes these thoughts seem our own. Rush, the political doctor, goes around looking wise & clucking conundrums coyly courting suspicion. Jefferson? A reasonable choice.

Most of the tavern regulars guess Thomas

Paine, the hawk-nosed English immigrant & ex-corset-maker, whose pen especially flames in brandy. He is not seen anywhere in Towne.

When I inquire where to look to confront him with the authorship, I encounter blinkless agate eyes. Turk might know where to look. But if the man is in truth the author, he needs hiding & deserves it.

Not able to get a copy of my own (but more are printing), I was able to read parts of four copies, almost the whole, I think. The opening slips quietly enough in the mind's door,

"Perhaps the sentiments contained in the following... are not sufficiently fashionable to procure them general favor." Hal! Perhaps?

The author then quickly courts the gallows. "Government even in its best state is but a necessary evil... He soon leaves himself no escape when he begins to explain the duties of kingship, little more to do than make war & give away places."

Perhaps if he had left it at that — but he refers to George III as "the Royal Brute of England" & asks, "If God intended us to have kings would he so often give us an ass for a lion?"

Some copies of Common Sense went out in a wagon to a Baltimore bookseller in plain packages, the wagoner being given 12 free copies to sell if he would deliver the rest. Many a wagon I predict will be harassed by Tories for carrying this book. It says right in print, "Wherefore... since nothing but blows will do, for God's sake let us come to a final separation."

I am not even sure our own publisher will carry this report about the pamphlet which concludes, "Nothing can settle our affairs so expeditiously as an open & determined declaration of independence."

From this day, I think the war changes. If Americans once thought of independence in the middle of the night, they will now think of it in broad daylight. If they once thought of their King as a benevolent & divinely-appointed ruler, they will now think of him as only a vain, unworthy, misguided man.

(Q) I need advice on caring for my Christmas cactus. The remaining buds dropped off without opening. What is wrong?

(A) There are two types of flowering holiday cactus: The Christmas cactus and the Easter cactus. The Christmas cactus, Zygocactus truncatus, usually flowers from Thanksgiving to Christmas. Its leaves have pointed lobes. The Easter cactus, Schlumbergera bridgesii, has wider leaves which are rounded. It usually flowers from Christmas to Easter.

They share cultural requirements. Both need partial shade during midsummer but full sunlight during late summer and autumn. Water moderately during midsummer and fertilize lightly each month with a soluble fertilizer. In late August, allow the plant to dry out as you expose the plant to full sunlight. After a week or so, begin to fertilize lightly again with a soluble fertilizer and water only as needed. Flowers should develop by the appropriate season.

To set flower buds, one of the following conditions must be met: (1) At 50 to 55 degrees F. night temperature, flower buds will form regardless of day length. (2) At 60 to 65 degrees F. night temperature, supply 13 days of uninterrupted hours of darkness (such as an unused room). (3) Flower buds seldom form at night temperatures above 70 degrees F.

After flowering, the plant will produce new growth. Next year's flowers will be on this new growth. To produce healthy flower bearing tissue, more fertilizer and water should be applied at this time. Rarely do insects and diseases bother these plants. Causes of flower loss are: (1) Too much water or too little water. (2) Over-fertilization. (3) changing the environment radically, such as from outdoors to an air-conditioned room.
